

Collection «Les coulisses du parfum»

WARNING NOTICES : Products intended solely for olfaction.

The contents of these bottles accompanying this work of art are not perfumes to wear but high-quality perfume ingredients or chords for use as a training aid.

These “raw” starting materials and compositions in this kit are often highly concentrated. This enables us to observe their olfactory characteristics “at first hand” and to understand their impact on the perfume. Although part of the perfumer’s palette, the contents of the bottles in this kit are not intended for application to the skin. The same substances can be found in fine perfumes and cosmetics, in compositions that are suitable for application to the skin without posing any risk to the user or the environment. Under normal conditions of use (see inside the kit), the olfactory substances provided comply with current legislation and satisfy relevant safety criteria.
